Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice's award-winning musical parable features a delightful array of musical styles, from country-western and calypso to bubble-gum pop and rock 'n' roll, entertaining young and old alike with such hits as "Go Go Go Joseph," "Close Every Door" and "Any Dream Will Do."

THE PRODUCTION AND ITS ORIGINAL CLO LEAD ARE BACK!

This Summer Season-opening production marks the first time since 1998 that Pittsburgh CLO has staged Joseph and also welcomes back the actor who put his unique stamp on that role – DAVID OSMOND. A member of the world-famous Osmond family, David served as the understudy to his uncle Donny during various National Tours from 1992-97 and then performed as Joseph in a National Tour produced by Pittsburgh CLO. He's also fresh off an appearance on "American Idol."

Pittsburgh native ready for his role as a rockin' Pharaoh

PETER MATTHEW SMITH makes his Pittsburgh CLO debut, although he is recognizable to local audiences thanks to his numerous Pittsburgh Musical Theater and Point Park University Playhouse credits. A Sewickley native and Point Park alumnus, he has performed on Broadway in Cry Baby, Fiddler on the Roof, Hairspray, RENT and Mamma Mia.

We've also got a Wicked narrator in store for you!

SHOSHANA BEAN makes her Pittsburgh CLO debut after previously starring in the Broadway productions of Wicked and Hairspray and the National Tours of Wicked and Leader of the Pack. She's also been a back-up singer for superstars such as Whitney Houston, Destiny's Child, Usher, 'N Sync, Ray Charles, Britney Spears and Michael Jackson.

Did you know?

Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat features 75 students from Pittsburgh CLO Academy and all over Western Pennsylvania. Several of these students also will appear in Les Misérables later this season. Don't miss your chance to catch these rising stars as they showcase their remarkable talents this season and beyond.
